

Ambush in Mozambique:

SA pair shot

JOHANNESBURG. — Two South Africans underwent operations in the Rob Ferreira hospital at Nelspruit for bullet wounds after being caught in an ambush in Mozambique.

Mr Joe Odendaal and Mr Hendrik Fourie, both 37 and from Benoni, were apparently ambushed near Masia north of Maputo at the weekend.

They managed to escape in a truck and spent two days in the bush before being found by a Frelimo patrol and taken to the Maputo hospital.

The men were brought to Nelspruit by aircraft. They are both out of danger. — Sapa
