

Nkomati Accord broken SM 23

MAPUTO. — South African forces violated Pretoria's Nkomati non-aggression accord with Mozambique in a clash with Mozambican troops on the country's southern border in July, Mozambique's Foreign Minister Pascoal Mocumbi said yesterday on his return from a trip to the United States, Belgium and Greece. 10

Asked by journalists about a reported July incident, which Cde Mocumbi had first mentioned in a Press interview, he said that after "a confrontation with enemy forces" in the south of Maputo Province, "we collected data which proved the complicity of South African forces with the bandits in our country". — Ziana-Aim-Pana.
