SA divers try to resolve case

PRETORIA. — The South African yachting crew accused of removing copper from wrecks in Mozambican territorial waters has made an application to the Mozambican attorney-general to resolve the case.

The Mozambican authorities have turned down an appeal against their conviction.

The father of one of the crew members, Mr Bill Ubsdell, said here this week that four of the men were still under guard on board their yacht Corolita in Maputo harbour. — Sapa
