

Preparations against rebels in Mozambique's Manica and Sofala Provinces (Text)
Maj-Gen Joaquim Munhepe, the military commander of Sofala Province, opened a training and refresher course for militiamen in Dondo district yesterday. Speaking at the opening, Joaquim Munhepe described the course as part of efforts aimed at giving a fitting answer to the acts of vandalism perpetrated by the armed gangsters in the pay of the Pretoria racist regime. The Sofala military commander also explained to the participants in the course the aims of the armed gangsters when they directed their attacks against economic infrastructures in particular.
