

Strange resident

ONE of the leading lights of the Mozambique Resistance Movement, Orlando Cristina, has been living openly in our midst. How strange, for South Africa is a country that resolutely refuses to destabilise its black neighbours — hasn't Pik Botha always said so?

Not that it is proof that South Africa IS involved, but Cristina's presence in our midst might raise tiny doubts in the minds of even our staunchest friends.

No wonder the authorities have so little to say about his death. Pretoria News, 22/4/83
