Joint Mozambican-Zimbabwean forces' attack on MNR camp (Text) Joint Mozambican-Zimbabwean forces are reported to have killed 52 South African-backed MNR terrorists during an attack on their camp in central Mozambique. The camp, known as a Kachadea, had been used to launch attacks on the road and railroad which links landlocked Zimbabwe with the sea. The Zimbabwean troops are helping Mozambique protect these routes which are attacked by the MNR, (?in attempts to make) Zimbabwe more dependent on South African railroads and ports.
