

Help for MNR victims?

HARARE — The Government is considering the possibility of extending the War Victims' Compensation Act to Zimbabwean victims of MNR attacks.

The deputy Minister of Labour, Manpower Planning and Social Welfare, Lt-Col Herbert Mahlaba, said there was need for the various members of society to help rehabilitate MNR victims and rebuild properties destroyed by the South Africa regime.

According to a text of his speech read at the "heal the wounds" campaign dinner-dance, Col Mahlaba said: "The regime will, because of desperation, increase its acts of aggression and the MNR activities are also likely to escalate." — Ziana.
