LUSAKA.

ZAMBIAN troops have tracked down and killed seven Mozambican MNR bandits responsible for a bus ambush in which 12 passengers died, defence minister Cde Hannaniah Lungu was yesterday quoted as saying.

Cde Lungu told the Times of Zambia newspaper that the rebels were killed last month near the Mozambican border. He said five others were captured and an undisclosed number of Zambians were arrested on suspicion of having assisted them.

The rebels were part of a group that ambushed a bus in Zambia's eastern province and set it ablaze with the passengers still inside, killing 12 and injuring several others, Cde Lungu said. — Ziana-
